Projects

UX Design Project | <https://mickrudolphdesign.com/#project1>

My team's final project for the UX/UI Bootcamp, the goal of this project was to design a website that related to a social issue. My group and I recognized an opportunity to create an informational website aimed at helping users understand their individual impact on the environment.

- Skills | HTML, CSS, JavaScript, JQuery, Adobe XD, Miro, Prototyping, Usability Testing, User Research (Interviews + Surveys) & Analysis

Local App | <https://mickrudolphdesign.com/#project2>

While there is a wide variety of preference regarding vacationing, many travelers want a "local" experience when they go on vacation, without the cost of a tour guide. Local is an answer to this traveling issue in the form of an app that connects travelers with locals who are willing to take travelers on personalized tours of events, activities, or destinations.

- Skills | Adobe XD, Miro, Prototyping, Figma, Usability Testing, User Research (Interviews + Qualtrics Surveys) & Analysis

Arden App | <https://mickrudolphdesign.com/#project3>

Arden is a goal-setting app that incorporates an innovative visual representation of user's goals progress. After conducting user research, my team and I realized that though many people have personal goals, many people struggle to keep their goals. Our goal was to discover a engaging and motivating way to help people make and keep goals.

- Skills | Adobe XD, Adobe Illustrator, Miro, Figma, Prototyping, Usability Testing, User Research (Interviews + Surveys) & Analysis

Purelements Website Redesign | <https://xd.adobe.com/view/a3dab6b4-6952-4e1b-ac67-08f41f11c1e3-f689/?fullscreen>

Purelements is a non-profit based in Brooklyn, NY that offers dance, theater, and arts intensive programs for black youth. My team's goal was to redesign this website, emphasizing navigational ease-of-use while infusing Purelement's colorful and vibrant culture.

- Skills | Adobe XD, Adobe Photoshop, Miro, Prototyping, Usability Testing, User Research (Interviews + Surveys) & Analysis
